

Happy Labor Day! Today is a perfect opportunity to reflect on the remarkable successes of the labor movement in America, as well as the distance we have yet to go in achieving justice.

We are forever indebted to the Labor Movement's courage and vision— bringing us the forty-hour workweek, occupational safety and health protections, the minimum wage, and child labor laws.

And we know that the fight isn't over.

In this moment in particular, so many Pennsylvanians know too well that the coronavirus doesn't just have an effect on health— people are out of work or furloughed, hours and wages have been cut, and the future is unknown.

We need strong labor unions now more than ever to stand up for workers, and Republicans are fighting tooth and nail to weaken unions, thwart organizing, and harm workers.

My mom's union job lifted my family out of poverty. I know firsthand how lifesaving it can be to have a union behind you, and how costly it is when the government doesn't stand by your side and protect your job. Republicans in the Pennsylvania Legislature have been chipping away at protections for our workers, in addition to voting against hazard pay and PPE for our essential workers. I'm committed to ending the reign of anti-labor policy and rhetoric in the PA State House.

Justice and dignity for workers, especially during this pandemic, is on the ballot this November.

Please join me in this centuries-long fight with a $7 donation today, so we can reach and mobilize the voters we need across the 105th district to oust the Republican majority and stand up for workers. Thank you for your support.

In solidarity,

Brittney
